In the 1980s, tweens and teens hung out at the mall. If they weren't buying products, they were considered a social nuisance.

Today, tweens and teens hang out online, but hanging out online isn't considered a nuisance. In fact, it's encouraged. After all, just hanging out generates data that can be collected, mined, and sold.

III. Decline of the Psychosocial Moratorium

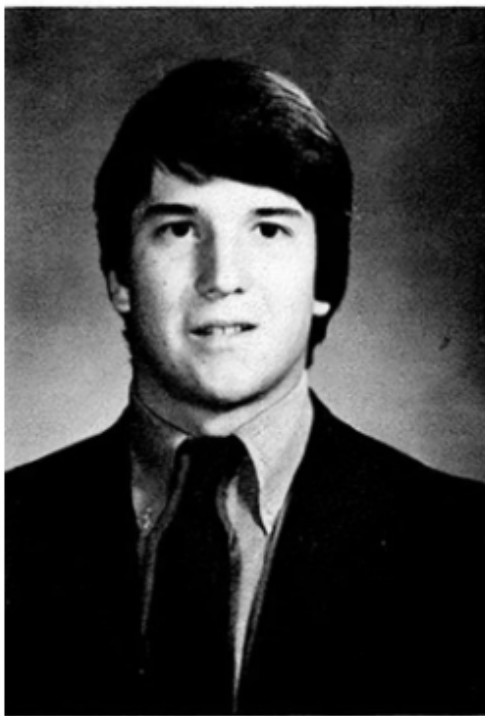

“The adolescent mind is essentially a mind of the moratorium, a psychosocial stage between childhood and adulthood, and between the morality learned by the child, and the ethics to be developed by the adult.”

- Erik Erikson

ii. Youth Are Becoming Increasingly Risk Adverse and Preoccupied With Reputation Management

In 2019, two-thirds of college admissions officers (68%) thought it was “fair game” to review applicants’ social media profiles on sites like Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

But the share of admissions officers checking social media posts is declining; it was 29% in 2019 compared to 40% in 2015.

A 2012 Pew Research Center survey of teens (12-17 year old) found:

- 59% have deleted or edited something that they posted in the past
- 53% have deleted comments from others on their profile or account
- 45% have removed their name from photos that have been tagged to identify them
- 31% have deleted or deactivated an entire profile or account
- 19% have posted updates, comments, photos, or videos that they later regretted sharing

2. Obligations

2.1 Service Eligibility

The Services are not for use by anyone under the age of 16.

To use the Services, you agree that: (1) you must be the "Minimum Age" (described below) or older; (2) you will only have one LinkedIn account (and/or one SlideShare account, if applicable), which must be in your real name; and (3) you are not already restricted by LinkedIn from using the Services. Creating an account with false information is a violation of our terms, including accounts registered on behalf of others or persons under the age of 16.

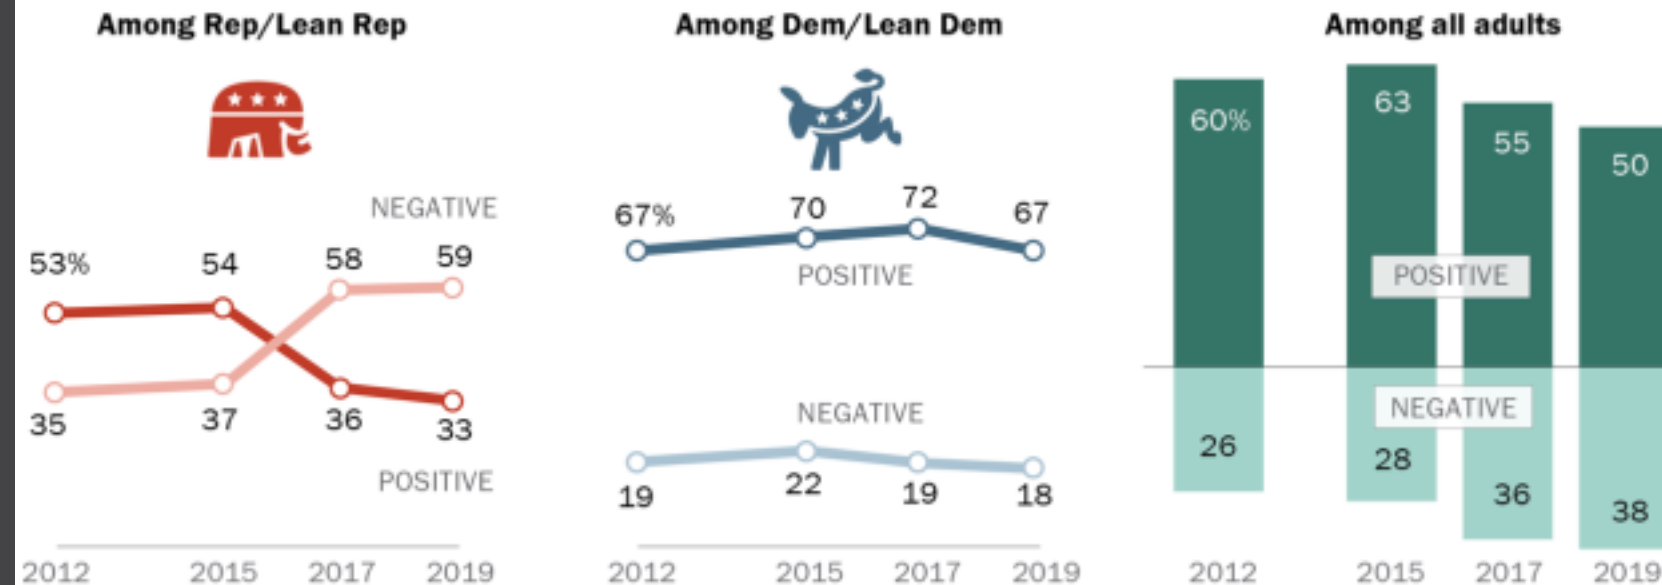

"Minimum Age" means 16 years old. However, if law requires that you must be older in order for LinkedIn to lawfully provide the Services to you without parental consent (including using of your personal data) then the Minimum Age is such older age.

iii. Political Positions Are At Risk of Calcifying At a Younger Age

Increase in the share of Americans saying colleges have a negative effect on the U.S. is driven by Republicans' changing views

% saying colleges and universities have a positive/negative effect on the way things are going in the country

Note: Share of respondents who didn't offer an answer not shown.

PEW RESEARCH CENTER

1 Section 1. Section 262.9, Code 2017, is amended by adding
2 the following new subsection:

3 NEW SUBSECTION. 39. Require partisan balance of the 4 faculty employed at each of the institutions of higher learning
5 governed by the board. A person shall not be hired as a
6 professor or instructor member of the faculty at such an 7 institution if the person's political party affiliation on 8 the date of hire would cause the percentage of the faculty
9 belonging to one political party to exceed by ten percent the 10 percentage of the faculty belonging to the other political 11 party, on the date established by the board for determining 12 the political party composition of the faculty. A person who 13 declares a no party affiliation need not be considered in 14 determining the political party composition of the faculty.

Identities and political perspectives will be calcified not necessarily because people are resistant or unable to change but rather because the past will continue to define who one is in the present and future.

In a world that where partisan politics and extremism continue to gain ground, this may ultimately be the real consequence of coming of age in an era when childhood and adolescence replay on an endless digital loop.
